VOL. 46 No. 13 Thursday, August 26, 1948

School Opens Sept. 1st (Teaching Staffs Complete)

Answering the question on every lip of late, the Trustees of the Raymond School District today announced that school would commence on September 1st, next Wednesday.

The opening date applies to both the Middle and High Schools.

Teaching staffs of both schools are complete and Raymond should feel fortunate in this respect. Several districts report that they will open their schools with teachers who are Lethbridge district schools are short seven teachers.

The teaching staffs are as follows: HIGH SCHOOL: Lyman Jacobs, Principal; Dean Rollson, L.L. Harker, M. T. King, Darrel Miller, Gerald Gibb, Carlton Hill, Mrs. Laqua, Elaine Street, Velma Redd, William Love, Naider, Athol Cooper.

PUBLIC SCHOOL: Grade One, Mrs. Wang; Mrs. Minion; Grade 2, Nelda Bullock, Molly Johnston; Grade 3, Miss White, Zella Woolley; Grade 4, Thelma Pitcher, LaFern Harker; Grade 5, D. B. Broadhead, Marie

James; Grade 6, Mrs. Park, Reed; Grade 7, J. O. Hicken, Principal; William Nabler.

Both schools have had their yearly cleaning and painting done and are ready for the opening day.

SEWER NEAR COMPLETION

Householders will be able to connect to the sewer very shortly according to information given the Recorder by William Borge, of Henry Borge and Sons, Construction.

Only five blocks of sewer are left plus the lines to the fence lines of those who have signed up.

Work at the disposal plant is very near completion and works now going forward on the installation of electrical power. The sewer will be in use within two or three weeks.

There is still considerable work to be done on the water works with new mains to be put down.

With good weather this fall large portion of this work will be finished.

real, who will be the first supervisor of station services. All of them will take their offices in Montreal on September 1, and report to the general superintendent of transportation, Mr. O'Brien, assistant general superintendent of transportation at Montreal for the past year, has been with the C.P.R. since 1911. Mr. O'Brien, inspector of the department for the prairie and western division since 1911 joined the company in 1916. Mr. Smart, who last year took over the position of special representative, eastern region, has been 6 years C.P.R. service; Mr. Raines, for the past four years rules instructor for the eastern region has been with the railway since 1912, and Mr. Howse has been inspector, transportation department, since March of 1947 and with the road since 1917. Their jurisdiction will be system wide in the import and department known as "the core of the railway" which goes to the the Canadian Pacific's 1,800 locomotives, 75,000 freight cars and 2,700 passenger cars are at the right place at the right time.

Work on Legion Hall Progressing

Although good progress has been made with the construction of the Legion Memorial Hall, a greater portion of the work still remains to be done.

The present effort of the Building Committee is to plan further work that the building be totally enclosed and completed on the outside before any wet fall weather sets in. The Legion are expected to take notice of these intentions by reporting in greater numbers at the building site to assist in the construction work during the week ends.

Admittedly we are less than in the middle of the campaign that has been in progress for sometime with the object of raising sufficient funds needed to complete the Memorial Hall.

The general response of the public has been good and a most interesting percentage of the objective has been reached, but further and greater support is needed.

To all our friends and fellow citizens in general we wish to remind that one of the primary objects of the Memorial Hall is to commemorate the services of the fallen in World War 2.

Out of the enlisted from Raymond and District, fourteen lost their lives in service to their country. There are things yet that can be done for those departed comrades. Can a helping hand not be extended to perpetuate the memory and deeds of the fallen by contributing generously to the Legion Memorial Building Fund now?

An important Legion executive meeting will be held in the Town Hall on Sunday, August 29th at 4:30 p.m. The Building Committee meeting will also be held immediately following the executive meeting. In view of the urgency of the matters on the agenda of both Committees all the committee members are urged to attend.

A general Legion gathering is also planned for September on the regular Legion night, the second Wednesday of the month, September 8th. In this connection all Legionnaires are well advised to watch for detailed announcements.

It is of interest to note that during his recent visit to Raymond Comrade Fresser, Provincial Secretary of the Canadian Legion commended highly on the activities of the Raymond Branch in connection with the construction of the Legion Hall.

The Lions were responsible for venturing a new part of our Stampede celebration this year. That was the night show. We think this was a very important part of our show and a very high class performance. We are not likely to see such a group of talented stars often. We should like the public to know that this project was made possible by the unselfish help of the following people in offering four hundred man hours of free labor behind the scenes to get it ready.

INSIDE STORY

While there were reportedly many parts missing in the jigsaw puzzle of the so-called "courtesy" visit to this capital of United States Defence Secretary James Forrestal since many questions remained after he had come and gone, yet a hint of some important aftermath is contained in what is known to have taken place in this meeting of top levels on defence in North America with this being especially significant in view of the delicate situation now known to exist on the internal front scene where leaders bluntly warn that nations must be "strong enough" to defend themselves if they want peace. At least, that is the kind of peace which exists at the moment, judging from observations on Parliament Hill and the loud whispers heard on defence preparations.

It is known that the U.S. Defence Secretary Forrestal held a two-hour meeting here with the defence committee of the Cabinet, with amongst those present said to have been External Affairs Minister St. Laurent, Defence Minister Chaiton, four Chief of Staffs, General A.G.L. McNaughton, and others. It is known that the U.S. top defence official found Canada's plans moving "along the same lines" as that of U.S. It is known that the standardization of arms is still under discussion but no decision has been revealed, if any has been made. It is known that the U.S. top official may have sought information about bases including those in Newfoundland though reportedly for "his own information" and not "by governments."

This much is known about the "courtesy" visit of U.S. Defence Secretary James Forrestal and observers in this capital seem to attach more importance to this visit than appears on the surface at the moment in face of every effort to call it a mere "courtesy" visit.

NO ALLIANCE YET

No formal alliance as yet exists between the Union Nationale Party of Prime Minister Maurice Duplessis of Quebec and the Progressive-Conservative Party. It is learned here, though rumors of such a combination have been circulating for several weeks. However, there is little doubt here where the sympathy of Union Nationale supporters lies and it is expected that, when the Progressive Conservatives gather here for their national convention at the end of September a huge bloc will represent such supporters in Quebec though there appears to be definite efforts made to deny than any such open alliance exists or is even now being negotiated.

IS THIS A HINT?

By studying reports about Premier King's tentative plans for the next couple of months it is interpreted along Parliament Hill that he may make a formal move to hand over the Prime Ministership to Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent sometime toward the end of November or beginning of December. It is understood that this may take place after Premier King has attended the United Nations Assembly in Paris where it starts on September 21 and the gathering of British Commonwealth of Nations Prime Ministers scheduled for London starting on October 16 with time permitting calling for Mr. King to visit some other capitals in the Old World before returning here in November.

DONT GET EXCITED.

While eggs, beef, butter etc., may be the subject of countless reports in the press or over the radio and most of these stories tending to suggest sensational boosts in prices or shortages in the making, yet a veteran observer in this capital must report that this spreading of such stories is causing more panic than the actual developments in the trade with the result that panic buying could be instrumental in bringing about price boosts and shortages which otherwise would not exist at all or at least not to the extent which results. In other words the observations here amongst officials who should know about supplies of such foods as well as price trends do not confirm the numerous stories heard.

Indeed, inquiries indicate clearly that normal buying and natural reaction of consumers to advancing prices have been powerful influences in keeping prices down. It happens in several Canadian cities in regard to eggs and other items with so-called "buyers resistance" to rising prices forcing chain stores and corner grocers to lower their prices or be "stuck" with the goods. Report after report of minor stampedes for certain foodstuffs only help profiteers whether these are spread deliberately or "accidentally", it is emphasized by those who should know consumer reactions.

REPORTS ARE DENIED

A report that the United States will be allowed to continue operating bases acquired during the war in Newfoundland even after it becomes Canada's 10th province is not continued here where it is stressed that this will not be discussed until Newfoundland has actually entered Confederation presently held as likely by March 31, 1949. Furthermore a report that Canada cannot afford to maintain such bases is also flatly contradicted here in informed quarters. There is no truth whatsoever in this latter report judging from inquiries here.

SKYROCKETING PRICES

Both the quality and quantity of beef available to consumers in various sections across Canada are expected to go down but the prices go up as a result of the lifting of export controls over shipment of such meats to the U.S. with this heard in this capital that this may affect the cost of living index by another upward swing of about 2 points, though an all-time high of 156.9 has now been registered. However at the same time it is believed here that "buyers resistance" to higher prices will force initial upswings in meat prices to fall sooner or later. In regard to supplies Canadian meat stocks totalled 89,201,709 lbs. on August 1 in cold storage holdings whereas a year ago on same date these had been recorded at 63,367,495 lbs.

SAID IN THE CAPITAL

"International affairs are bedevilled with prejudices and misunderstandings simply the result of half-educated minds unable to resist the appeal of other half-educated minds," said UnderSecretary of State for External Affairs "Mike" Pearson in an address in the capital.

"At our convention there will be no examinations no gagging, and stifling of delegates no domination of the rank and file by the hierarchy emphasized Dick Bell, National Director of the Progressive-Conservative Party, telling here of plans for his party's national convention in Ottawa opening on September 30th.

"Conditions may have changed greatly since I was there but I think there will be a change for the better when Newfoundland comes in with Canada," Rev. H. D. Whitmore stated here where he is now a resident and who had spent ten years in Newfoundland prior to coming to Canada this being in 1909.

"This shows clearly that Canadians as a whole are big consumers of the best food on the market", remarked Dr. A. H. White, expert of the Agriculture Department, Canadian Government pointing out that last year the average consumption of milk in Canada was 1,300 pounds per person.

"The Canadian Construction Association takes the view that the Dominion Government should recognize its responsibility in connection with such roads by granting sums of money to the provinces to assist in their construction" said President Allan C. Ross here commenting on reports that a Dominion-Provincial Conference may be called to discuss the Trans Canada Highway.

WEEKLY WIND-UP

Rising costs of wax, paper, flour, fats, wages etc., may force bakers to boost bread prices in some areas across Canada it is forecast here, though it is known that bakers generally are anxious to keep such prices down because the masses appear to be particularly sensitive to price increases for bread.

There is a strong possibility that some relaxation at least temporarily may be made by the authorities here to allow into Canada motor car parts from the U.S. so that present interruptions in production of motor vehicles may be avoided on account of "bottlenecks".

A report about a new wrapper for butter being used on a widespread scale shortly is heard here but this will mean a slight increase in cost even if it is said to be worth the difference because it will help to keep the butter in better condition longer both in the consumer's refrigerator and in cold storage.

It is true that Canada's Unemployment Insurance Fund has reached a total of close to half a billion dollars but it is pointed out here that it has not been tested by any depression with the hint being that a depression could use up the surplus in surprisingly fast time. In 1931 the worst year of the depression over 20 per cent of the population was unemployed in Canada, it is worth remembering.

Premier King has not been requested to remain in the cabinet until the next general election in face of rumors to that effect, it is learned along Parliament Hill where it is understood that no steps to that effect have been taken since Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent became leader of the Liberal Party.

"It's Pool Elevators This Year"

The Alberta Wheat Pool
is celebrating its 25th anniversary. The rallying cry is "Make this year a Pool Elevator Year."

Many of the men who participated in the formation of the Alberta Wheat Pool are no longer engaged in farming. The younger generation of farmers may not be so keenly aware of the pressure of circumstances which brought about the Alberta Wheat Pool's formation. Nevertheless, they should realize that the Wheat Pool has been a tower of strength to Alberta agriculture.

Alberta farmers have, over the years, paid for many an elevator system. But Alberta Pool Elevators is the only one owned by Alberta farmers today.

Besides providing grain producers with exceptional service and protection, Alberta Pool Elevators has, over the years, paid patronage dividends and redeemed reserves as follows:

Patronage dividends	paid in cash	$ 3,725,000
Patronage dividends	paid in reserves	3,028,000
		$ 6,753,000
Purchases of reserves	from members	$ 4,450,000

This record shows what can be done through co-operative effort. This year deliver your grain to—

SEEDING CRESTED WHEAT

CRESTED wheatgrass is probably the most dependable cultivated forage crop which can be grown in the drier areas of Alberta. It is very drought resistant, starts growth early in the spring, and possesses the ability to "green up" after fall rains. All in all, it is an excellent grass for either hay or pasture purposes, and under favorable conditions will produce a good seed crop.

Extensive trials conducted throughout southern Alberta have indicated that the best time to seed crested wheatgrass is from August 15 to September 15. When seeding is done at this time the grass has a chance to make some growth before winter. If grasshoppers are prevalent, however, it is best to delay seeding until early the following spring. Successful stands have been obtained at both dates.

The rate of seeding will depend somewhat on the use to be made of the field. If for pasture, a rate of from eight to ten pounds per acre is used. This results in a heavier stand which produces fewer seed stems and is more readily eaten by stock. For hay production, a rate of six pounds per acre results in higher yields. Growth is usually slightly coarser than when higher rates are used, but good quality hay can be obtained from fields sown at these lighter rates.

Shallow seeding is very important when crested wheatgrass is being drilled into a field. From one half to three-quarters of an inch is the optimum depth of seeding. For this reason a firm seed bed is a necessity and in addition it may be necessary to take most of the pressure off the drill runs.

Because the young seedlings of crested wheatgrass require shade to produce its best growth it is recommended that seeding be done directly into stands of annual weeds or stubble without previous cultivation.

SHOES NOT SANITARY DECLARES FOOT EXPERT

"The shoe is the most unsanitary article of body covering in existence," according to Dr. Felton O. Gamble, foot expert.

"There is heat, darkness and moisture—the same conditions that produce mould on cheese or bread," Gamble told a meeting of the Southern Chiropractic Congress.

"That is why so many people have athlete's foot," he said.

"A fastidious woman who never will wear other clothing more than a day will wear her shoes six months and keep them stored in a dark closet when she's not wearing them," he doctor chided.

"Men are worse because their shoes are almost without ventilation," he added.

To guard against fungus infection a person should change shoes at least twice a day and expose the unused pair to sunlight, Gamble advised.

PLAN TO PROMOTE DRIVERS TRAINING

For some years the Alberta Motor Association has been a staunch advocate of driver training in high schools. Its urgings have been made to provincial authorities while it has pointed to the steady development of the system in the U.S. where 150,000 students will graduate this year in courses instituted by educational authorities with the co-operation of the American Automobile Association.

While it was hoped that Alberta would adopt the course, even on an experimental basis this year, the department of education has given an adverse decision. It has left the matter in the hands of school boards to adopt such courses if they desire on an extra-curricular basis.

Some Alberta boards have indicated that they intend to go ahead with the courses on this new basis for test purposes next term. Also they are making preparations to send one or more teachers to the teacher training school which the A.A.A. will operate in Vancouver during August.

Reports from U.S. centres have shown conclusively that where such driver training courses are given in schools, there has been a noticeable reduction in motor accidents.

FEWER BREAKDOWNS CAUSED BY FLAT TIRES

Car breakdowns due to flat tires decreased 18 percent between the end of 1946 and the end of 1947, according to reports received by officials of the Alberta Motor Association. An annual statistical survey undertaken by the American Automobile Association covered reports from 14,000 garages under contract to provide service for stranded motorists.

The drop in the number of breakdowns due to flat tires "undoubtedly" reflects the widespread replacement of war-weary rubber that took place as soon as new tires came on the market in large quantities, the report reveals.

The report added that the average motorist probably is more tire conscious now than he was before the war and is continuing those conservation practices learned of necessity.

Battery failures, carburetor trouble, wrecked and tow calls, stuck cars and cars out of gas all increased in number in 1947 over the previous year.

Lock and key, starter and gas line cases also rose and there were almost a million more calls to service cars that were unable to move for miscellaneous reasons. Ignition trouble, like tire trouble, showed a decrease.

Officials of the A.M.A. emphasize that safe driving is easier on tires, while also reducing the number of accidents and less injury on highways.

U.S. MAY BUY ARMS FROM US

The United States may place orders with Canadian munitions plants, says The Financial Post. This it sees as one of the results of U.S. Defence Secretary Forrestal's visit to Ottawa. States the Post: "We've a stockpile of arms sufficient for our own immediate needs and we've a surplus which we feel could be usefully diverted to the Western Europe trouble spot. Ottawa feels it should be diverted. It feels, too, we should keep up our war potential in the factories."

"What we'd like from the United States is an agreement which would ensure that our factories are kept humming on an economic basis. In other words will the U.S. finance arms supplies to Western Europe from our factories. A figure of between $200 millions and $250 millions is mentioned in this regard—obviously a sizeable help to our dollar situation."

"No, I cannot marry you," said the smart young lady. "But I'll always admire your good taste."

Put a little ammonia in the water when you wash your hair and you will never have that dull soap film as a result. Use it, too, when you wash your brush and comb—just soak them in a basin of suds—and there will be no difficulty in making them sparkle with little effort on your part.

WHY KEEP UP WITH THE JONESES? (From The Vancouver Province)

Our generation has given a good deal of attention to the "Joneses", that mythical family which has been a will-o-the-wisp for so many ambitious young men and women.

We are inclined to laugh off any pretensions to "keeping up" with the Joneses but just the same where is the man, who, at some time or other hasn't yearned for that new house that streamlined car and that yacht that shouted to the world that its owner was a success and a good fellow to know.

Unfortunately there are not enough thrushes, juncos and yachts to go round and our psychiatrists are telling us that for the sake of our health we may as well get used to the idea that we will never catch up with the Joneses.

Two University of California Psychologists have reported to the American Medical Association that "an unusual number of social climbers and strainers suffer from chronic diseases, duodenal ulcers and thyroiditis". They warn that a good many "climbers" get isolated from their environment and as a result become mentally, mentally and physically lost.

Apparently the Joneses set too fast pace for which not many of us are geared. Most of us, it seems, can be a lot happier and healthier, if we decide to let the Joneses go to blazes and enjoy our life and our friends as we go along.
